

Building Block #11

In the long history of knitting, the Make One (M1) is a relatively new stitch. A Make One is a method of increasing with several advantages. The Make One increase does not leave a hole, and the stitch created in the Make One is a knit stitch. Conversely, an increase made by knitting into the front and back of a stitch (kfb) results in a knit stitch followed by a purl stitch. Because of its smooth finish, the Make One increase is popular among current designers.

Creating a Make One is simple, once the running thread is identified. The running thread is the horizontal strand that lies between two stitches and connects them.

Special Abbreviation

M1 (Make One) With left needle tip, lift running thread between needles, inserting the needle tip from front to back. Knit the lifted strand through the back.
