

Building Block #3

A Yarn Over is a simple increase resulting in a lovely hole that is the basis for lace knitting. The yarn is passed over the right hand needle before making the next stitch, putting an extra strand on the needle between stitches. When this strand is worked on the subsequent row, an extra stitch and a hole are made. A Yarn Over is usually paired with a decrease to maintain the stitch count. For this block a simple knit two together (k2tog) is used. When a Yarn Over is worked between two knit stitches, as in this pattern, the Yarn Over is made by bringing the working yarn between the needles to the front of the work before knitting the next stitch.

Bobbles add texture and charm to any knitted garment. There are many ways to execute a Bobble, with my personal favorite provided here. This simple Bobble has its origin in Irish knitting and can be found in many Aran sweaters. The Bobble is made by increasing one stitch into five stitches. These five stitches are worked for several rows and then decreased back to the original single stitch.

Note that this block contains a Set up Row. The Set up Row is knit only once and is used in place of Row 1 in the first repeat only. Upon completion of the Set up Row, continue with Row 2 of the body pattern. When Row 12 is completed you will then return to Row 1. In this block, the Set up Row does not alter the stitch count but allows for a symmetrical design. Every block from this point forward will make use of a Set up Row.

TIP: In Row 7, every k2tog is followed by a yarn over (yo). Check that there are 48 stitches at the end of this row to ensure that you included every yarn over.
